PROJECT SUMMARY:

In line with the European Strategy for Universities and the Council Recommendation of 5th April 2022, and the missions of the four partner European University Alliances, this project aims to further the implementation of European and international joint degree programmes and the European Degree Label with special, but not exclusive, emphasis on four target countries facing obstacles of diverse nature: France, Italy, Portugal and Spain.

The EDLab consortium is composed of universities from the four target countries participating in the Arqus, ENLIGHT, EUTOPIA, SEA-EU Alliances and from Flanders, bringing together those who face challenges with those who have progressed further in resolving them. It also brings together as associate partners remaining universities in the alliances, ministries and QAAs, European and global university networks, with student and alumni associations as a powerful alliance to:

- Analyse the suitability of the criteria proposed by the EC for the award of the ED Label;
- Analyse the barriers existing for their fulfilment, with particular but not exclusive reference to France, Italy, Portugal and Spain;
- Analyse how an ED Label and joint programmes enhance the global attractiveness of the European Higher Education System;
- Analyse the procedure for the issue of an ED Label and its format, along with potential barriers to be addressed.

- Produce detailed and robust recommendations on the basis of findings.

The Consortium will publish detailed reports of its findings in all these areas, with recommendations for all stakeholders. EDLab will ensure strong dissemination of its findings, wide European and global participation in up to 24 countries through our existing joint programmes and networks, wide stakeholder participation in all its consultations, and in particular close collaboration with other pilot projects approved under this call, to jointly resolve a longstanding challenge for the European Higher Education area.
