Standard number of credit per semester/ per year	Undergraduate exchange students need to take at least six classes per week for one semester to satisfy the requirements of their visa. Graduate exchange students need to take at least one class. https://www.kanagawa-u.ac.jp/international/welcome/exchange/file/file_chart.pdf
Kanagawa University class system	At Kanagawa University, classes each year are divided into First (Spring) Semester and Second (Autumn) Semester and each semester consists of 14 weeks of classes where one class period lasts for 100 minutes. 45 minutes of class time is calculated as 1 hour and 100 minutes × 14 classes is considered to be 30 contact hours. In principle, a one semester subject in a specialist field is worth 2 credits but subjects such as language subjects receive 1 credit. Q: Is it possible to calculate the ECTS for Kanagawa University course credits? A: Calculation systems vary and it is up to the home university to decide how credit is apportioned, so please follow the directions of your home university.
Cost estimates per semester or year	*Please refer to the "Life Expenses" at the website.
